Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On November 2, 2018, Cooper-Standard Automotive Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Cooper-Standard Holdings Inc. (the “Company”), entered into an Asset Purchase Agreement (the “Sale Agreement”), as seller, with ContiTech USA, Inc, as acquiror (“ContiTech”) (together the “Parties, each a “Party”). Pursuant to the Sale Agreement and the terms and conditions thereof, the Company agreed to sell and ContiTech agreed to acquire substantially all assets relating to the Company’s anti-vibration system business in which the Company engages directly or indirectly through certain of its subsidiaries in North America, China and Poland. The transaction includes a binding offer from ContiTech to purchase substantially all assets relating to the Company's anti-vibration system business in France, including the Company's 50% equity interest in Sujan Cooper Standard AVS Limited (collectively, the "AVS Business"). On the basis of such offer, the Parties have entered into exclusive discussions regarding the sale of French anti-vibration system business and equity interest in Sujan Cooper Standard joint venture once works council consultations in France have taken place. Further, the Company agreed to assign and ContiTech agreed to assume certain liabilities of the Company associated with the AVS Business (collectively, the “Transaction”).

The proposed purchase price to be paid to the Company in connection with the Transaction will consist of $265.5 million in cash (the “Base Amount”), which will be adjusted to reflect the indebtedness and working capital deficiency or surplus of the AVS Business at the time of closing. The amount (if any) of applicable transaction expenses will also be deducted from the Base Amount. The net effect of these adjustments could significantly decrease the cash proceeds to the Company.

The Sale Agreement contains customary representations, warranties, covenants and indemnification provisions. The closing is subject to customary closing conditions, including receipt of applicable antitrust approvals. The Sale Agreement may be terminated by mutual consent of both Parties or by either Party in the following circumstances: material breach by the other Party; failure to complete the closing of the Transaction on or prior to June 30, 2019; failure to satisfy certain closing conditions; or action by a governmental authority that would prevent or prohibit the Transaction. At closing, the Parties are expected to enter into certain ancillary agreements, including transition services agreements, manufacturing services agreements, and supply agreements to support the transition services, supply of materials and production of parts between the Parties in connection with the separation of AVS Business from the Company to ContiTech.
