Cooper-Standard Automotive Announces First Quarter 2006 Results

Novi, Mich. – May 15, 2006 – Cooper-Standard Holdings Inc., the parent of Cooper-Standard Automotive Inc., today announced its first quarter 2006 financial results. Results for the period were positively impacted by the company's acquisition of ITT Industries' automotive Fluid Handling Systems (FHS) division, which was completed in the first quarter. The company reported sales of $540.4 million and net income of $5.5 million. The company is a leading global manufacturer of body sealing, fluid handling, and noise, vibration, and harshness (NVH) control parts for the automotive industry.

A summary of the unaudited financial results for the quarter follows:

$ Millions	Q-1 2005	Q-1 2006
Net Sales	$ 470.1	$ 540.4
Earnings Before Taxes	$ (0.6)	$ 7.9
Net Income	$ (0.5)	$ 5.5

Sales in the first quarter 2006 were 15 percent higher than the same period in 2005, mainly due to the FHS acquisition. FHS accounted for $71.3 million in sales for the period of February 7, 2006 through March 31, 2006. Net income was $5.5 million, up $6.0 million from 2005 which was attributable to $9.9 million favorable change in purchase accounting adjustments. First quarter 2006 net interest expense was $20.3 million compared to 2005 net interest expense of $16.1 million due to the incremental new debt associated with the acquisition and slightly higher interest rates.

"We kicked off 2006 on a positive note for the company," said Jim McElya, president and CEO. "Cooper-Standard delivered an $11.5 million quarterly improvement in Adjusted EBITDA year over year, which is a strong indication that our strategy is working effectively. As we continue to integrate FHS we are confident that we will remain successful, in spite of challenging conditions within the industry."

Highlights of the First Quarter 2006

Significant number of product launches: Cooper-Standard successfully launched products for the following vehicles during the first quarter of 2006:

- DaimlerChrysler (Chrysler 300C (Europe), Dodge Caliber, Dodge Sprinter, and Mercedes SLK)
- Ford (Ford Puma, Jaguar S-Type, XI, and XK8)
- General Motors (Cadillac Escalade, Chevrolet Suburban and Tahoe, and GMC Yukon)
- Volkswagen (Gol and Polo)

Incremental new business awards: During the first quarter of 2006 the company was awarded incremental annualized net new business of over $31 million, of which 44 percent was from customers other than the traditional "Big Three."

Awards and recognitions: In recognition of excellence in various aspects of its operations, Cooper-Standard received the following industry awards:

- Toyota "Cost Excellence Performance Award"
- DaimlerChrysler - Chrysler Group Gold Award

Acquisitions and other strategic alliances: The company completed its purchase of ITT Industries' automotive Fluid Handling Systems division, adding fifteen locations and broadening both its product and customer bases. This acquisition elevated Cooper-Standard to the number two position in the global fluid handling systems arena.

Also in the quarter, the company entered into a joint venture agreement with Hubei Jingda Precision Steel Tube Industry Co. Ltd. of China providing for the manufacture and assembly of fluid handling systems for sale to original equipment manufacturers in China through an entity majority-owned by Cooper-Standard.

Adjusted EBITDA Reconciliation

EBITDA during the first quarter of 2006 was $60.6 million compared to $41.1 million during the first quarter of 2005. After accounting for adjustments relating to restructuring, inventory fair value write up, and foreign exchange, Adjusted EBITDA for the first quarter in 2006 was $65.0 million compared to $53.5 million for the same period in 2005.

$ Millions	Q-1 2005		Q-1 2006
Net Income	$	(0.5)	$	5.5
Provision for Income Taxes	$	(0.1)	$	2.4
Interest Expense	$	16.1	$	20.3
EBIT	$	15.5	$	28.2
Depreciation and Amortization	$	25.6	$	32.4
EBITDA	$	41.1	$	60.6
Restructuring	$	0.3	$	2.2
Foreign Exchange Loss/(Gain) (1)	$	2.3	$	0.1
Inventory Write-up (2)	$	9.8	$	2.1
Adjusted EBITDA	$	53.5	$	65.0

Management uses Adjusted EBITDA as a measure of performance and to demonstrate compliance with certain debt covenants. The Adjusted EBITDA may vary slightly from the amount used in calculating covenant compliance due to the classification of joint venture equity earnings. EBITDA should not be construed as income from operations or net income, as determined by generally accepted accounting principles. Other companies may report EBITDA differently.
